

Editor's Note

Dear Sir / Madam,

Irrefutably, the COVID-19 pandemic has actually disrupted business from all walks of life, and exerted substantially-irrecoverable impact on publisher industry in a vast and unprecedented scale. However, the pleasure and privilege would be always ours to kindly keep everyone updated concerning any Journal of China-ASEAN Studies-related positive news. Journal of China-ASEAN Studies (JCAS, ISSN (Print): 2730-4205, ISSN (Online): 2730-4256), the second issue was officially published without any interruption caused by coronavirus pandemic. This issue with the holding of DPU ICBISS 2021 International Conference has specially selected a few remarkable research articles to be published on the 2nd issue of JCAS, and to our strongly-held belief JCAS's 2nd issue would absolutely present you many different perspectives and ideas.

JCAS is a double-blind, peer-reviewed academic journal sets to be published in June and December annually in Thailand, which is a new comprehensive and great journal addressing various fields of study including Future Workforce, Thai-China, Marketing, Business & Management, Wellness, Tourism, Hospitality, Leisure Studies, Information Technology, Finance and Accounting, Communication Arts, Economics, Education & Teaching, Humanities, Arts & Design, Languages, Applied Science and Engineering or so forth. This journal aims to provide a platform for scholars, practitioners and students to publish outstanding-quality conceptual and research paper bilingually (Chinese and English) based on both theoretical and empirical studies along with encouraging knowledge to be equally shared in the related fields as notably valuable academic contributions. JCAS, furthermore, serves as a leading platform, enabling readers to learn, communicate, and exchange pertinent knowledge pertaining to new studies and best practices.

JCAS is considered as a long academic journey and mission from nowhere in the past to somewhere at present. It, thus, without considerable efforts, sacrifices, contributions made by all related committee members, would never become a reality. The 2nd issue of the first volume of JCAS is officially published. Furthermore, we still solidly sail and move towards the ultimate goal of being indexed in TCI 2, TCI 1, Scopus and SSCI or so forth. Once again, we'd extend our special thanks to all the authors who contributed and those who participated that let JCAS move towards a higher academic quality.

Your sincerely

Chief Editor
Assist. Prof. Dr. Chun-Shuo Chen
Journal of China-ASEAN Studies